

HOMEOPOETRY

Each book has been soaked in water overnight in order to distil its essence.

The distilled water from each book has been collected by syringe and carefully mixed with sugar pills in numbered vials.

Each vial and its contents relate to the book and author on the accompanying list.

Like = Like

Emulate other poets by placing a Homeopoetic sugar pill under your tongue.

As it dissolves you will be able to write like Emily Dickinson, William Wordsworth, Lucy Harvest Clarke, John Berryman, and many others.

You can also mix and match to create truly original works.

Try Han Shan & Carol Watts.