

WAYS I HAVE DRAWN A YELLOW LINE

As when, as felt

---

5 minutes timed to silence

---

With a red patch

---

Until 100

---

Near a spilt cup of tea and in silence

---

10 seconds saying, 'a yell-o-line'

---

To a red patch 2 minutes

---

To a yellow patch 2 minutes

---

Until 10

---

A minute whilst thinking of a man I know feeding a duck

Near a blue patch on top of an old red patch

---

Whilst describing the line as something else

---

Until 36

---

Moving a badge between every stroke

---

Next to one of Hugo's drawings

---

With a sheet, with 23 yellow lines already drawn on, for 2 minutes

---

With a sheet with a drawing on it (it looks like a worm)

---

Pushing the box that they're contained in, back and forth ... a bit

---

Until 1

---

Before 3 jars of coloured fizzing liquids

---

As fast as possible — 10

Before 2 miniature bottles of liquid

---

2 at top speed

---

To a scrunched-up ball of paper

---

To the sound of someone else drawing

---

A sequence of 5

---

An unnumbered sequence

---

After modifying a box

---

Lines across a line remembered

---

Near 3 coloured plastic sleeves – yellow, green, red

---

With a sheet of plain paper in 3 coloured plastic sleeves – yellow, green, red

---

With a tiny tray for water

Before a 4 bulb sculpture

---

Towards blocks treated as nodes

---

As a drawing of a stack of blocks

---

With a set of 3 discs laid on top of the other – the discs are 3 different sizes and colours

---

With the 3 coloured disc sculpture turned over so it looks like a white disc sculpture formed of a single circle

---

To a lollipop drawing

---

To 2 polystyrene and pin sculptures

---

In relationship to a white cube ritual performed on the paper

---

With a half-finished box

---

In front of 2 ever-so daintily wrapped cubes (wrapped as if for a doll's house)

---

Whilst listening to Stephen Ratcliffe read Continuum

To some padded infinity dice

---

As sonnets

---

Whilst lighting a special pot

---

Before a broken balloon lamp and 5 objects in a balloon

---

With rectangular yellow packages

---

Timed by an hourglass to a lit block

---

At a different table

---

Whilst with a really well sealed light-emitting box in a jar

---

Getting the feeling for new pens and pencils

---

Elsewhere to a monarch's candle pot

---

Like notches
